An attempt to re-claim and verify my digital presence.

Background

I mentioned on my about page, that it is nigh impossible to keep track of every digital trace there is of me. That said, it is really not even a countable infinite set yet, so it is a good idea to get started before it gets much worse. This is minimally curated, and will only be sporadically updated, so take everything here with a grain of salt. I honestly have no idea why anyone who is not me would like to see this, other than to prove one of these with respect to the rest^[^fn:1].
